CHAPTER ONE = ABOUT THE CHARACTERS

Once upon a time, there was a Jupiterian named Jadoo, who lived on the planet Jupiter with his best friend named Zwe. Jadoo played with Zwe all the time and they used to dance together. Jadoo and Zwe's favorite pastime was to trouble the people of Earth. When Earthians annoyed them, Jadoo and Zwe would get very angry like mad elephants. The Jupiterians have green and purple eyes. They are very tall, have three eyes, two hands and four legs. They inhale the gases around them like hydrogen. Most of the Jupiterians are not very smart but Jadoo was not like them. He was smarter than the other Jupiterians and that is why they kept him as the leader. Jadoo had a strange and unique fear – he was afraid of butterflies. None of the other Jupiterians were scared of butterflies, but instead thought of them as beautiful.

In the planet Jupiter there was a lot of different types of rocks, different types of gas explosions and a teleporter which took them to other planets and to different galaxies.

CHAPTER TWO = PLANING THE WAR

One day Jadoo, his friend Zwe, and the Jupitarians decided to expand their power, so they planned to take over the other planets. The next day they teleported to each planet and announced the news. Last was the planet Earth. When they reached the planet Earth, they told everyone about the war. The Earthians knew that the Jupitarians were strong and if they were not allowed to take over the Earth, they would kill all of them. Earthians decided that will not surrender their planet without a fair fight and so they told Jadoo that they wanted to have a war. Jadoo agreed to their request. The war was to be held after three days. All the planets were working hard and the Jupitarians we're playing games because they knew they were really strong and that the other planets could not win the war even in their wildest dreams.

CHAPTER THREE = THE WAR

After three days Jadoo and the Jupiterians teleported to the different planets. They conquered each and every planet. The only planet that was left was Earth. Then the war began. Few hours later many humans were dead but not even one Jupiterian had died.

Accidentally, one of the aliens fell into a lake and melted! All the Earthians saw the incident and were shocked for a second. Earthians, then started pushing all the aliens in into water bodies and pouring buckets of water on them. A few hours later all the Jupiterians were dead but Jadoo and Zwe were way too strong. When the humans were trying to kill Jadoo that second a butterfly sat on Jadoo's head and Jadoo got scared and ran away. Zwe was the only one left so Zwe got scared and ran behind Jadoo. Since that war, no Jupiterian has ever troubled the Earthians again.
